

FREE TREES FOR STREAMSIDE PLANTINGS AVAILABLE!

Planting trees along our local streams and creeks can offer significant benefits that improve water quality, reduce the risk of flooding and erosion, provide valuable habitat for wildlife, and support recreational opportunities.

Tree planting events also help foster a strong community commitment and connection to the land. If you know of municipal lands or property protected by a conservation easement that may benefit from streamside tree plantings, Brandywine Conservancy has the trees, expertise, and a strong volunteer community to facilitate tree plantings in our area.
